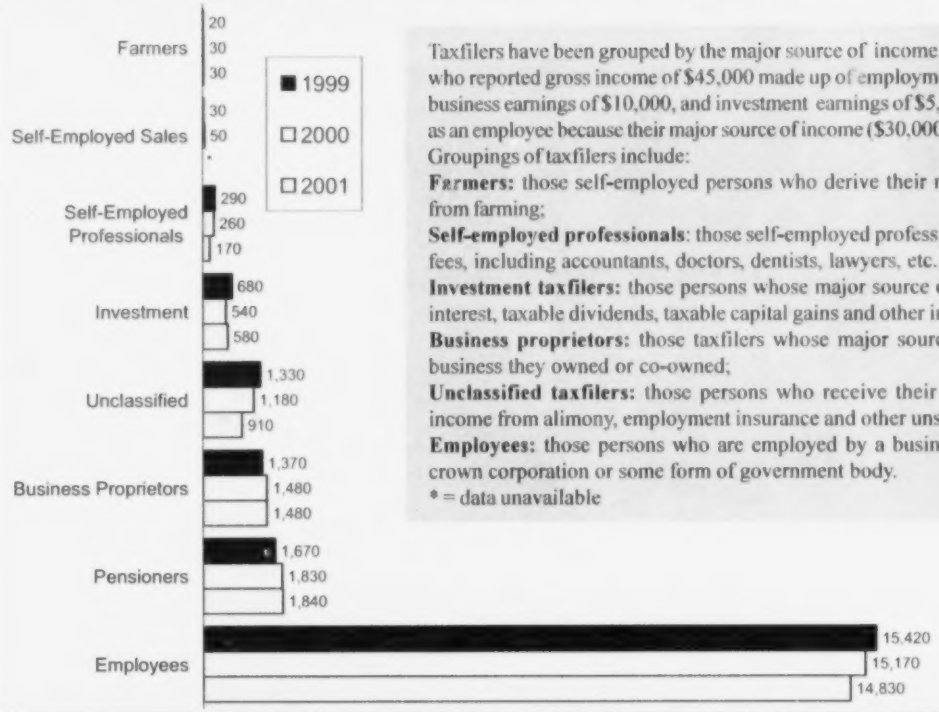
2 All Taxfilers by Major Income Source, Yukon, 1999 to 2001



Taxfilers have been grouped by the major source of income. For instance, a taxfiler who reported gross income of $45,000 made up of employment earnings of $30,000, business earnings of $10,000, and investment earnings of $5,000, would be classified as an employee because their major source of income ($30,000) was from employment. Groupings of taxfilers include:

Farmers: those self-employed persons who derive their major source of income from farming;

Self-employed professionals: those self-employed professionals with professional fees, including accountants, doctors, dentists, lawyers, etc.;

Investment taxfilers: those persons whose major source of gross income is from interest, taxable dividends, taxable capital gains and other investment income;

Business proprietors: those taxfilers whose major source of income is from a business they owned or co-owned;

Unclassified taxfilers: those persons who receive their major source of gross income from alimony, employment insurance and other unspecified income; and,

Employees: those persons who are employed by a business, institution, school, crown corporation or some form of government body.

Taxfilers include all returns filed with and without income reported. Some returns are filed for the sole purpose of the GST Credit and/or Child Tax Credit. All figures are reported in current year dollars and have not been adjusted for inflation. The information contained in this publication is based on Revenue Canada data. Statistics pertaining to less than ten taxfilers have been suppressed; however, they are included in all subtotals and totals. All counts of the number of taxfilers have been rounded to the nearest ten. Sub-totals and totals were rounded independently. Due to rounding and supression, numbers may not sum to totals.
